

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON.

Executive Order 001

Restricting the usage of the "National Security Threat" designation

November 3rd, 2022.

By the authority vested in me as President by the Constitution and the laws of the United States of America, and in order to ensure that abuse is prevented through the National Security Council, it is hereby ordered as follows:

- All motions to declare an individual a National Security Threat through the National Security Council MUST be accompanied by clear evidence that supports the reasoning for the declaration.
- Any National Security Threat declaration that is motioned and/or voted on without clear evidence will be invalid.
- The clear evidence being used to support the declaration of a National Security Threat must be attached to the motion itself.
- For the purposes of a National Security Threat declaration, the word of an individual or individuals on the National Security Council is not acceptable as evidence. Evidence in the form of an image, video or other media supporting the reasoning for the declaration is the only valid form of evidence.
