

EXECUTIVE ORDER

ENDING EXECUTIVE BRANCH BLACKLISTS

WHEREAS,

It is my belief that Executive Branch Blacklists have been used maliciously against the American people,

WHEREAS, Executive Branch Blacklists as a whole are cruel, counterproductive and against the best interests of the United States,

WHEREAS, Administrations have utilized and abused the quasi-judicial power to issue Executive Branch Blacklists on individuals in order to limit their ability to roleplay, participate and enjoy the United States of America.

WHEREAS, This policy has been abusive, harsh, unjust and represented a great flaw within the American social sphere,

WHEREAS, As part of my campaign, I promised to abolish and end Executive Branch Blacklists: I will make good on my promise.

THEREFORE,

By the authority vested in me as President by the Constitution and the laws of the United States of America as the head of the executive branch, and in order to promote free and fair employment, it is hereby ordered as follows:

Section 1. Definition

Executive Branch Blacklists (EBBs), or any equivalents, are generally defined as the barring of an individual from recruitment and employment, without justifiable cause, to a position within an Executive Branch Department.

Section 2. Abolishment of Executive Branch Blacklists

1. Executive Branch Blacklists (EBBs), or any equivalents, are hereby prohibited from being issued, actioned upon or maintained. They are declared abolished.
2. All previously issued Executive Branch Blacklists are hereby revoked.
3. Individuals found to go rogue, admin abuse or abuse in other forms shall be subjected to the investigations and punishments of the internal affairs divisions of their respective departments and agencies, or shall be found liable in a court of law. Broad and unchecked Executive Branch Blacklists are discontinued.
