- b) The District of Columbia Correctional Facility, hereinafter shall be referred to as “The Prison”.

SECTION 5. APPLICABILITY.

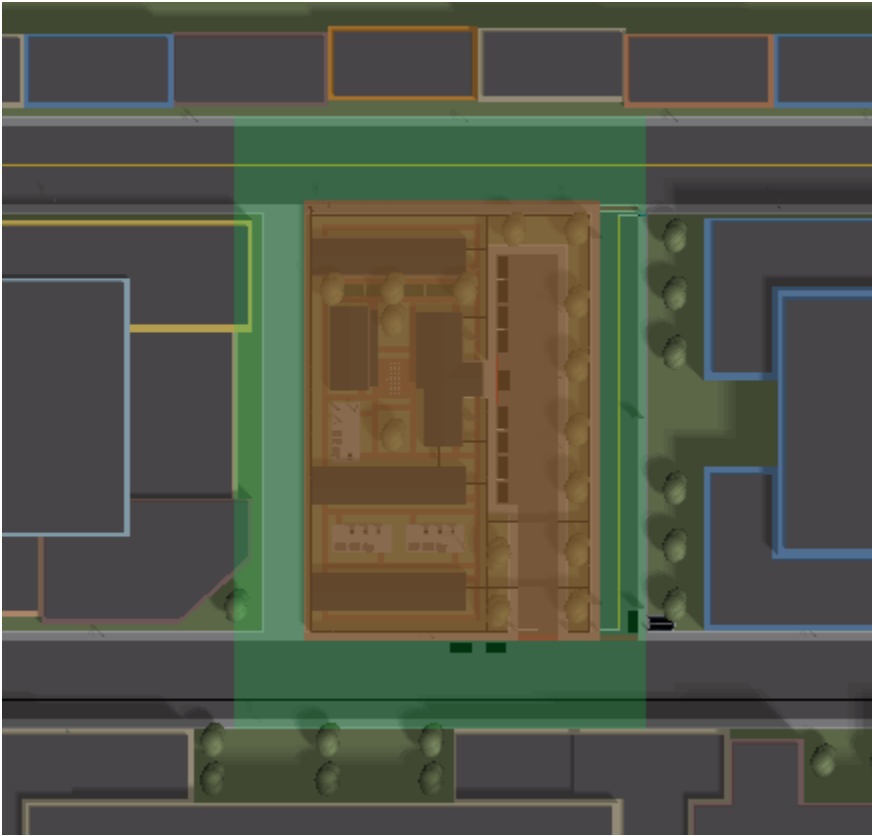

- a) Subject to the conditions of either imminent public safety threats, genuine escape risks, or mass riots, this act faces the potential for revocation and subsequent civil litigation by the District of Columbia in response to any misuse of authority or arrests.
 - i. In such instances, any legal proceedings concerning the potential misuse of authority or arrests under this act shall be handled by the District Attorney General of the District of Columbia, ensuring thorough investigation and adherence to due process.
 - ii. When conducting arrests beyond the prison limits, BoP personnel must strictly follow prescribed protocols and procedures, ensuring full compliance with relevant laws and regulations to uphold legal standards and safeguard individual rights.

SECTION 6. EFFECTS

- a) The prison, presently has a footprint occupying the “Orange” Zone in Article A.

b) Should this bill pass, the Prison's footprint will extend to the "Green" Zone in Article A.

i. Article A shall refer to the picture below.

ii. Within said zone, this footprint DOESN'T include public sidewalks on the opposite side of the road of the prison or transportation access sites such as the nearby subway stop.

c) Whichever entity that has the authority to administer the prison will have their powers extended to this footprint.

SECTION 7. REASONING.

a) It is essential to expand the Bureau of Prisons' jurisdiction, empowering prison staff to conduct arrests outside the prison's perimeters to tackle this criminal uncertainty. By enabling BoP personnel to track down and apprehend escaped prisoners beyond the prison, BoP can significantly decrease escape incidents and promptly re-incarcerate offenders. This proactive strategy not only fortifies the security of our prison but also mitigates potential threats to the district posed by escaped inmates.
