EXECUTIVE ORDER 1

INTERNAL AFFAIRS PRACTICES WITHIN THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH

By the authority vested in me as President by the Constitution and the laws of the United States of America,

I, akacoolguy96GPT, President of the United States of America, in view of the organizational needs and in the betterment of quality within the executive branch, hereby order:

Section 1. Purpose. To better ensure that federal agencies are reorganized in a manner befitting the new status of the group, it is the purpose of this order to provide for an effective and lasting system for the oversight of federal agencies under the auspices of the Executive Office of the President of the United States, by and through a Bureau of Internal Affairs organized under the direction and control of the President.

Section 2. Mission. It shall be the mission of the Bureau of Internal Affairs to maintain oversight of the federal agencies under the control of the President of the United States in all areas relating to noncompliance with laws, rules, and regulations applicable to such agency, including violations by individual employees, and to keep the President up to date with the overall compliance of the federal agencies with federal laws and regulation.

Section 3. Establishment of the Bureau of Internal Affairs. There is the Bureau of Internal Affairs (hereinafter the “Bureau”) as a subordinate office of the Executive Office of the President, under the control and direction of the President by and through the White House Chief of Staff or his designee.

Section 4. Composition. The Bureau is composed of a Director and Deputy Director, assisted by a number of employees authorized by the Director and any number of criminal investigators liaised from the Federal Bureau of Investigation or other relevant federal law enforcement agencies for the purpose of conducting or assisting in criminal investigations. The Bureau shall further have the assistance of an appointed appeals attorney to handle appeals of the decisions of the Bureau, such attorney shall be licensed to practice law through the Federal Bar Association.

Section 5. Responsibilities. It shall be the responsibility of the Bureau to—

- (a) receive complaints from members of the public concerning misconduct or violation of any law, rule, or regulation by any executive agency, official or employee not excluded by law from the control of the President of the United States;
- (b) investigate credible complaints received;
- (c) conduct reviews of executive programs and agencies to ensure compliance with all applicable laws, rules, and regulations;
- (d) issue orders for the suspension of agencies, officers or employees of which an investigation regarding misconduct or noncompliance is being conducted when deemed necessary under written rules of the Bureau; and
- (e) issue recommendations resulting from any investigation or review conducted.

Section 6. Suspension. Any agency, officer, or employee in violation of a law, rule, or regulation, or who has been found guilty of a crime under the laws of the United States or under the laws of the District of Columbia, may be suspended from their position within a specific agency or throughout all agencies under the control of the President for a specific period not to extend past two months by order of the Bureau.

Section 7. Termination. Any agency, officer, or employee in violation of a law, rule, or regulation, or who has been found guilty of a crime under the laws of the United States or under the laws of the District of Columbia, may be terminated from any specific agency or throughout all agencies under the control of the President by order of the Bureau.

Section 8. Executive branch bar. Any person who significantly diminishes the functioning, trust or lawful operation of the executive branch may be barred from employment within any agency under the control of the President, such bar shall be applied only for—

- (a) abuse of government power;
- (b) destruction of government or group property, including but not limited to Trello boards, Discords, or government documentation;
- (c) serious criminal offense;
- (d) violation of the trust of the President, or of the general public; or
- (e) any other activity causing significant damage to the functioning, trust or lawful operation of the executive branch.

Section 9. Mandatory criminal investigation. Should the Bureau discover evidence or suspect the commission of any offense cognizable under the laws of the United States or those of the District of Columbia, the Bureau shall transmit all such information to the Attorney General or his designee. The Bureau shall provide all assistance necessary to assist the Attorney General or his designee in the investigation of such offense.

Section 10. Appeal. Any decision of the Bureau may be appealed to the appointed appeals attorney, and then to the White House Chief of Staff.

Section 11. Actions taken against senate confirmed officers. Any action taken against an officer receiving the advice and consent of the Senate shall first be approved by the President of the United States.

Section 12. General provisions.

- (a) Nothing in this order shall be construed to impair or otherwise affect the authority granted by law to an executive department or agency, or the head thereof.
- (b) This order shall be implemented consistent with applicable law and subject to the availability of appropriations.
- (c) This order is not intended to, and does not, create any right or benefit, substantive or procedural, enforceable at law or in equity by any party against the United States, its departments, agencies, or entities, its officers, employees, or agents, or any other persons.
