RE: Issue With Current Election Schedule and new T&S Directive

On March 9th, 2024, an inquirer who is part of congressional leadership reported an issue to the Federal Elections Commission around 21:13PM. Central Standard Time regarding the length of term for Senators being too short in the current election schedule and provided the constitution's requirements for Senators stating that "The Senate of the United States shall be composed of twenty-one Senators split into three classes, each being composed of seven Members, the first being chosen during the second Weekend of the first Month by the People, the second being chosen during the second Weekend of the second Month by the People, the third being chosen during the second Weekend of the third Month by the People, and so that each Class may be chosen every third Months by the People." This means that there should be new senators every second weekend of each month in which the specific classes rotate every three months.

After this, Trust and Safety found that a similar requirement exists for the House of Representatives, "The House of Representatives shall be composed of twenty-four Representatives split into two Classes, each being composed of twelve Members, chosen during the first Weekend of every alternating Month by the People." This means that there should be new representatives every alternating first weekend of each month in which the specific classes rotate every two months.

Following on this ticket, the Trust and Safety Department attempted to rearrange the schedule in several ways to ensure continuity in the current terms, however, this proved impossible as every rearrangement resulted in 3+ elections occurring at the same time. After this, the idea of prolonging the current terms of affected elected officials to the constitutional weekend designation came into picture, however, this also resulted in several elections yet again coinciding at the same time.

As a result, the Trust and Safety Department has determined that the best solution to this issue is to directly enforce the first weekend constitutional designation for the House, and to enforce the second weekend constitutional designation for the Senate. The third and fourth weekend of months will be reserved for municipal elections as needed, giving precedence for the Presidential Election when it occurs on the weeks of March 14th - 16th, July 14th - 16th and November 14th - 16th.

After this determination, the Trust and Safety Department received consent through a complete consensus from the Senior Group Managers to create a new Trust & Safety Department Directive related to establishing the constitutionally correct and modified Federal and Municipal Elections Schedule for the rest of the 2024 year in which the Federal Elections Commission and the roleplay will be following.

I would personally like to thank the congressional leader that pointed out the error in the current election schedule.

You may view the raw modified schedule attached below, but a more continuous one with the normal format will be provided in the FEC server and the main nUSA server sometime today or tomorrow, March 11th.

Yours,

Tregokian
Group Manager | Trust and Safety Department
